

A leading CDH solution provider strengthens benefit account administration and enhances consumer-driven healthcare with Deevita's data integration solution.

The market leader in healthcare and benefit payment solutions is reducing the time to process claims and enrolments with Deevita's data integration solution.

CHALLENGE

Integrate data from 3rd party systems into the client's CDH platform without changing the core platform or introducing too much customization.

SOLUTION

Offer extensible and scalable solutions that handle various data transformation needs, allowing standardization of common activities and providing flexibility to customize data transformation.

PLATFORM

Provide a data processing solution to integrate data from multiple benefit administrators during the claims and enrolment procedures. Push/pull information to/from different sources/destinations, provide customized security layers and data processing.

The solution provides timely alerts on processing status, load balancing feature for increased processing requirements, and in-built failover mechanism. While processing 1 enrolment file per day, the solution can process up to 3790 claim & enrolment files per day, with added condition-based transformations.

RESULTS

Process 2 lakh records in under 10 seconds and rise as a game changer for the client's CDH journey.

The client now provides a seamless consumer healthcare experience with robust and fast data integration from Deevita.

The client offers the industry's most comprehensive platform for the administration of healthcare benefit accounts. The company has partnered with Deevita to integrate data from different types of benefit systems in a rapidly changing marketplace.

Deevita's data integration solution enables the client to align with the expectations of benefit administrators, tailored to the requirements of today's healthcare industry. The faster preprocessing has had a positive impact on the client's CDH solutions and customer relationships.

"With a very short ramp up period Deevita has become an integral part of our development effort. Technical prowess, attention to details, work ethics and dedication made Deevita instrumental in our success."
